What Would Life Be Like Without People?

"I wish everyone would just leave me alone!" Have you ever heard anyone say that? Have you ever said that yourself? Stop. Think for a moment: What would life be like without people? Words such as cold, dull, meaningless, come to mind. One simply cannot go through life without sharing this existence with those around him. Individuality, uniqueness and the diversity of personality add spice and true meaning to life. There is such beauty contained within the individual soul. It is that beauty which really makes life worth the living.

What would life be like without people? Why, life would not be life at all. Each of us is a part of all that surrounds us. Celebrate being alive.

Celebrate

Each of us is a part of all that surrounds us. Celebrate being alive!

Whether we're winning a football game, spending time with a special friend, or just "messing around", there is always some reason to celebrate. Life at DHS in 84-85 was often a celebration of life itself.

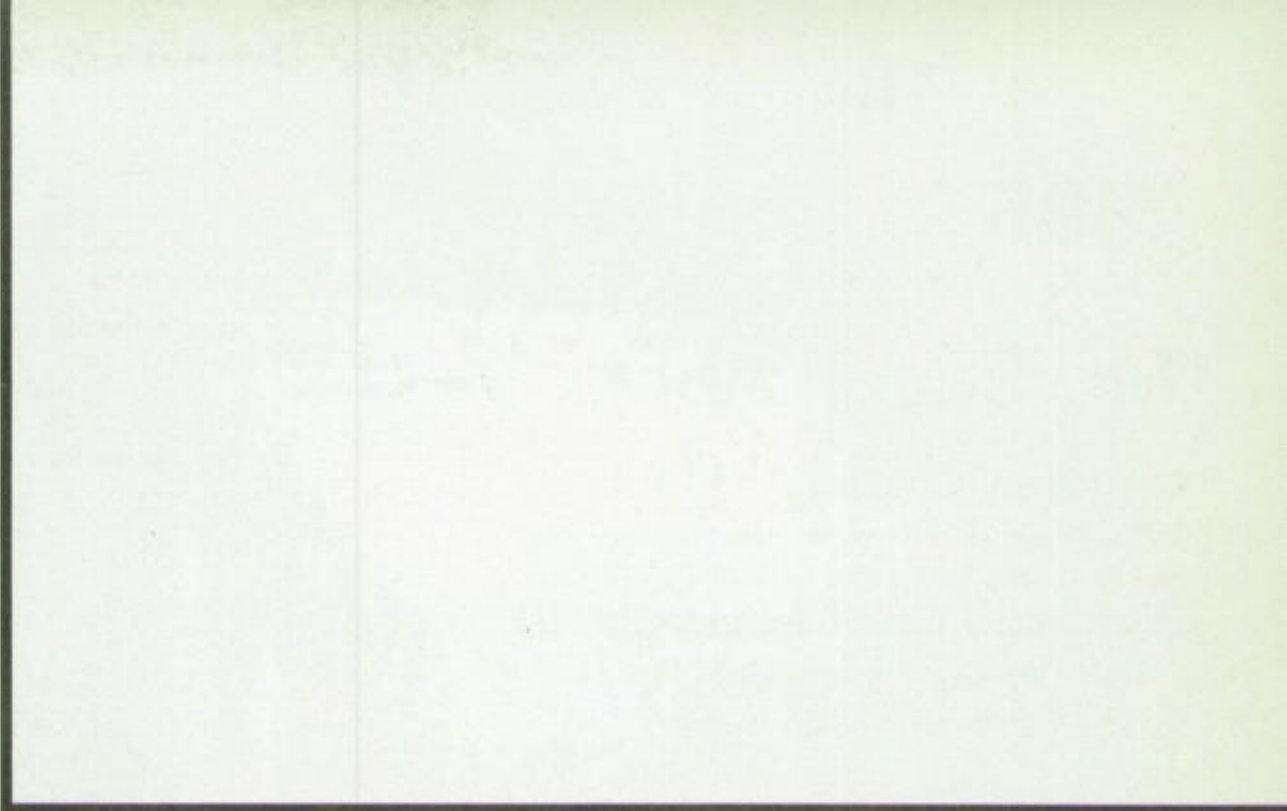

Each of us is a part

People are what makes life at DHS. The different faces and varied interests add spice to potentially dull days.

Each of us is a part.

The 1985 Shamrock

Dedicated to

Mr. Coach Ables

The key word throughout the 84-85 school year at DHS was change. Last year everyone referred to the boys basketball coach as Coach Ables. Logical, right? But what does one call a basketball coach who is also principal. Mr. Coach Ables naturally!

Mr. Coach Ables, as he is affectionately called by some students, is, of course, VERY qualified to coach. He has coached in such areas as football, basketball, baseball, track, golf and tennis. He coached a girls track team straight on to a state championship, as well as a regional championship baseball team and a state qualifying golf team.

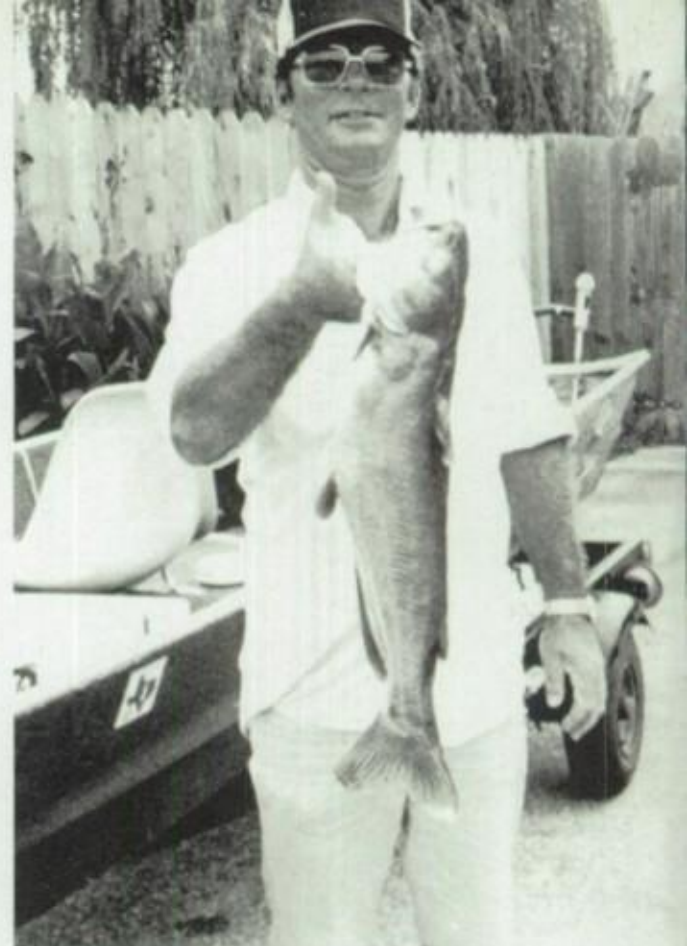

He has served as Director of the Girls Coaching Association, Vice-President of the Girls Coaching Association and President of the Girls Coaching Association. He was also nominated as Panhandle Coach of the Year for his contributions in girls track.

The Mr. Coach has taught and/or coached in such towns as: Flower Grove, Cranfills Gap, Clifton, Idalou, Olton, and of course, Dublin. He also served as assistant athletic director in Waco.

He has attended Tarleton State University, Howard-Payne University, University of Oklahoma, Texas Tech University, and Baylor University receiving both his Bachelors of Education and his Masters of Education.

Buddy (to his friends and colleagues) enjoys golf, fishing, hunting, and wood work (carving ducks), gardening and raising finches.

Though changes are often hard to grow accustomed to, Mr. Ables' positive attitude has helped us to adapt rather easily. In recognition of this always positive attitude, the 84-85 Shamrock Staff wholeheartedly dedicates this annual to Mr. Coach Ables; (Ross Perot would be proud)!

We are delighted that all of you have come to share this special occasion with us.
THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

By Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

May 24, 1985, a time of endings and beginnings for the Senior class of 1985. We have each been asking ourselves many questions; but perhaps the one that crosses our minds most often is, "Which roads will we take and where will they lead?" As we make these decisions, we must be aware that these are decisions of great importance.

The Class of 1985 is a part of the old as well as the new. We are at a turning point in our lives as well as in America. America is evolving into an age relatively unknown to people of today. Our generation is taking "the road less traveled by", a road that consists of technology that is yet to be fully developed. In the last ten years, we have come as far in technological advancements as we did in the five years prior to this time. In the next five years, it is predicted that our advancements will equal that of the ten years prior and in every two years following, the pattern is to continue in the same manner.

We, the Class of 1985, have the responsibility of keeping this advancement alive. We must succeed in taking "the road less traveled by", because in some twenty years, we will be the backbone of our community, our state and our country. We must carry on the commitment to excellence, enabling the future generations to have a stable environment in which they can continue to advance our society. The commitment of success will come in many different forms, according to each individual. Each person must set his own personal goals and achieve them in his own ways. For what is success but to live your life in your own way . . . to reach the goals you have set for yourself . . . to be the you that you want to be . . . that is success for the individual. But we must not be totally self-centered because our personal success must involve our commitment to society.

On behalf of the Senior Class, I would like to thank the faculty, our parents and all of the other people that have enabled us to reach this very special day in our life. You are a very special group of people and we really appreciate you.

Finally, I want to wish my fellow classmates a successful future and a happy useful life.

Thank you.

Members of the School board, administrative personnel, faculty members, distinguished guests, and fellow students:

It is my distinct pleasure and privilege to welcome each of you to the Commencement Exercises of the Class of 1985 of Dublin High School. As we, the graduating class, stand before you this evening, we look upon this special event in two ways. These ways of looking upon tonight are diametrically opposite, yet somehow similar. There are those who will look upon this evening and reflect on many wonderful experiences that were shared during our time in public school. As this is a time to reflect, it is also a time to look forward; for when we look forward, we find an opportunity to make plans for the future, and as is well-known, planning is one of the keys to success.

Success is a very ambiguous term; there may never be a completely accurate definition. To achieve a satisfying definition, one might want to begin by learning how to measure success. Success can be measured in several ways. In our culture, success is often measured in terms of money. How much does one have and how much can one accrue? Of course, money is not the only thing that can be accrued. Education can also be accumulated. To some, one measure of success is an education. This education provides knowledge which can lead to another measure of success, personal happiness. Personal happiness, to some, is more important than either money or an education. Some feel that when they are happy, that is a success unto itself.

How does one go about achieving this success? Success — total success — cannot be achieved by hard work alone, but hard work will achieve some success. One can achieve a small success through education; yet, as before, education alone does not provide complete success. A proper frame of mind is also a key to success; yet, like the others, it is also not total success. One needs a combination of all of these to be successful. While on the subject of proper frame of mind, I am reminded of a poem which you may have heard before. It is by an unknown author and goes like this:

"The Winner"

If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don't
If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost,
For in the world you'll find Success begins with a fellow's will —
It's all in a state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win the prize.

For many a race is lost
Ere even a step is run;
And many a coward fails
Ere even his work's begun.

Think big and your deeds will grow;
Think small and you'll fall behind;
Think that you can and you will —
It's all in the state of mind.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.
— Author Unknown

So as you see, success is very difficult to define. It can, however, be measured and achieved. My standing before you this evening is, in its own way, success. I could not have achieved this success without help, and now I would like to take a moment to thank people who made my success possible. I thank the school board and administrators who keep Dublin High School operating as it should. I thank the faculty who provide the basis for this school and have taught me most everything I need to know to be a success. A special thank you goes to the taxpayers; for without you, Dublin High School might not even exist. And finally, thanks Mom and Dad, for allowing me to be the person I am, and I hope I have made you proud. Thank you.

To My Mother and Father
 I Love You
 You come to mind so often and I wonder why I have been chosen to have wonderful, loving parents like you.
 You have given me love . . .
 welcoming me home with open arms.
 You have given me courage . . .
 Helping me in times of need.
 You have given me security . . .
 knowing I have a safe home and a special family to return to always.
 You have given me trust . . .
 from always being able to believe in me, and I in you.
 You have given me honesty . . .
 knowing that we always speak
 the truth with each other.
 And you have given me friendship
 Helping me to realize that I am never alone, you are always near
 I want so much to repay you
 for your kindness,
 and someday I will find a way . . .
 but for now I can only tell you,
 though I don't always show it and though I don't always say it . . .
 I Love You.

1985 Editor
Krista Blagg

The 1984-85 school year has been a year of change at Dublin High School. It is our hope, as editors of the '85 Shamrock, that we have captured the meaning of those changes and preserved them both clearly and precisely merely for your own future reference.

To our fellow classmates, the Seniors of '85, we trust that this yearbook will be one of your most precious possessions. Just as the value of antiques increase as they age, so will your yearbook become more priceless as the years pass.

To the entire Shamrock Staff, we, as editors, hold a very deep and special gratitude. Without you, the creating of this annual would not have been possible. Often, where you should have received a "pat on the back", you only received a stern admonition to work harder. For this, we are sorry. Though we could never thank you enough, nor congratulate you adequately, we hope that you now realize the sincerity of our feelings.

To Mrs. Northcutt, words can hardly express our feelings. Though we were often lazy, irritable, LATE, and generally hard to get along with, you always dealt patiently with our numerous mistakes and "oversights". How can one say thank you to she who bore the gripes we should have received.

1985 Editor
Angela Durham

And again to the Seniors of '85, every class longs to leave their mark in school which distinguishes it from other classes. Some groups leave a positive impression while others, a negative. As the 'Class of '85', you — we, will leave a mark of which we feel very proud. As editors, we hope we have represented you both satisfactorily and worthily.

Now, finally, to everyone, thank you all for those very special times that have characterized the past school year. If it had not been for you —, the student, or you —, the teacher, or you —, the administration, there would have been no thrilling victory, or defeat filled with agony. Without you, there would not have been a reason to laugh or a reason to cry. You are what this yearbook is all about. Thank you for trusting us with such a great responsibility.

Each of us is a part of all that surrounds us.
Celebrate being alive.
The Editors

Student Council Fun Days

TOGA! TOGA! TOGA!...

We're gonna make a break for it!

The 1984-85 School year was marked by change. One major result of these changes was the cutting down of school assemblies. In order to combat boredom and apathy on campus, the Student Council sponsored Fun Days in which students were encouraged to "dress up" and participate. The Student Council Fun Days consisted of Hat and Shades Day, College Day, 50's Day, a Legs Contest, Mr. Irresistible Day, Costume Day, Grungy Day, Camouflage Day, Western Day, and Sweats Day. As a whole, the Student Council was very pleased with the participation of the student body. This participation is another characteristic which distinguishes DHS students as being Superior.

We're gonna rock around the clock tonight!

Hi Ho! Hi Ho! It's off to work we go!

Barnum & Bailey Circus comes to Dublin.

La cu ca racha! La cu ca racha!

Even Teddy Bears need hugs! 81

S.C. Christmas Party at Jose's

The primary purpose of the Student Council is to plan and carry out projects that benefit the entire student body. As one can readily see, this job requires a lot of work. But, work is not all the year offers for Student Council members. The Student Council Christmas party was held at Jose's Mexican Restaurant. The members drew names earlier and voted to exchange "gag gifts" at the party. The party was a success and allowed members just to relax and enjoy each other's company.

George waits anxiously as Walter opens his gift.

Angie is all set up for her honeymoon.

Mickey and Dan look on in amusement as D'Ann opens her gift.

Where's my gift? Amy Zachry

Jennifer and Dana look on as others open their gifts.

SENIOR SPEECH

I would like to tell you why it meant so much to me to be a Dublin Lion. It has meant that I could be a part of a team that was so close that I considered all the members of that team family. On this team I had to have a great sense of honor and respect for my coaches and teammates. I had to be willing to work hard to succeed and give my all to do my best in the challenges that I have faced and will face in the future. The greatest challenge I had to face as a Dublin Lion was on a Sunday in a team meeting about whether or not some of the rules we had set up were to be followed and backed up. It was hard but we knew the decision that had to be made. The decision was to follow the rules and back them no matter what the cost. It brought our team closer together and it made us stronger. Now I would like to make a challenge to all the underclassmen to take the traditions that have been passed down and made through the years and carry them on and add to them if it is called for. Become a closer team and always rely on each other for help and strength. Always remember it's an honor to be a DUBLIN LION.

The 1984-85 Lady Lions Track team was very unique this year. Moving into a larger and more competitive district seemed to unite the Lady Lions team efforts enabling them to continue their winning ways. Each individual contributed to our final goal, which was to send the Dublin Lady Lions to the Regional Track Meet. The 1984-85 Lady Lions Track Team is truly a "Team".
